PROFILE

Federico is an Italian flutist currently living and studying in Paris. His curiosity and his polyvalent skillset brought him to develop many different aspects of his musicianship: contemporary music and artistic creation, historically informed performance practice, conducting and mise en scene.

Federico follows the Artist-Interpreter program at the Conservatoire National Supérieur de Paris and works as a freelancer with several orchestras, contemporary and historical ensembles and in chamber music formations, between France, Italy, Belgium and The Netherlands.
